School Behaviour Policy Appendix 1:

Governors Statement of Behaviour Principles

Introduction

This Statement has been drawn up in accordance with the Education and Inspections Act 2006, and DfE guidance (The school behaviour policy: the role of the governing body). The purpose of this statement is to provide guidance for the Headteacher in drawing up the Behaviour Policy at Poulner Junior School so that it reflects the shared aspirations and beliefs of governors, staff and parents for the children in the school, as well as taking full account of law and guidance on behaviour matters. It is intended to help all school staff to be aware of and understand the extent of their powers in respect of discipline and sanctions and how to use them. Staff should be confident that they have the Governor's support when following this guidance.

This is a statement of principles, not practice: it is the responsibility of the Headteacher to draw up the Behaviour Policy at Poulner Junior School, though the Headteacher must take account of these principles when formulating this. The Headteacher is also asked to take account of the guidance in DfE publication Behaviour and Discipline in Schools: a guide for Headteachers and school staff (January 2016).

The Behaviour Policy must be publicised, in writing, to staff, parents/carers and children each year. It must also appear on the school's website.

Principles

Right to feel safe at all times: All pupils, staff, parents and visitors have the right to feel safe at all times whilst in school and should always have mutual respect for one another. All members of the school community must be aware that bullying, harassment or discrimination of any description is unacceptable and, even if it occurs outside of school hours or away from the school premises, will not be tolerated and will be dealt with according to the Behaviour Policy.

High Standards of Behaviour: The Governors believe that high standards of behaviour are essential for a successful school and for achieving the school's vision. The Governors also believe that meeting high standards of behaviour during the school day will have a positive effect on the life of pupils outside of school, encouraging them to become valuable members of the community.

Inclusivity and Equality: Poulner Junior School is an inclusive school where all members of the school community should be free from discrimination of any description. This is promoted in the day-to-day life of the school and is set out in the Equality Policy. The school Behaviour Policy must state that bullying and discriminating behaviour that goes against the Equality Policy will not be tolerated. The Behaviour Policy will include a clear, concise anti-bullying statement that can be understood by all members of the school community. Measures to counteract bullying and discrimination will be applied consistently and monitored for their effectiveness by the Headteacher.

Although the school's legal duties for compliance with section 149 of the Equality Act 2010 with regards to the elimination of discrimination, and which are described in the Equality Policy, and with section 175 of the Education Act 2002 with regards to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children will be reinforced in the Behaviour Policy, reasonable adjustments to the application of the Behaviour Policy may be made by the Headteacher and the staff in order to safeguard vulnerable pupils, and particular those with special educational needs.

Class Charter: At the start of each academic year each class discusses and agrees a set of rights and responsibilities that set out the expected standards of behaviour and that are consistent with the school's values and the Behaviour Principles – each class's 'Class Charter'. The Behaviour Policy must make reference to the rights and responsibilities, which the Governors expect to be applied consistently by the school community.

Rewards and Sanctions: The Governors expect the Behaviour Policy to set out a range of clearly defined rewards and sanctions that encourage good behaviour, discourage unacceptable behaviour and that can be applied consistently and fairly across the school. The Behaviour Policy must make it clear how and when rewards and sanctions, which include both fixed-term and permanent exclusions, will be applied. For consistency, the rewards and sanctions should also be explained to others who have responsibility for pupils, such as those supervising home to school transport. The Behaviour Policy must set out the criteria the school will use to determine when a multi-agency assessment will be considered for pupils who display continuous disruptive behaviour. The Behaviour Policy must set out the process by which a pupil or parent can appeal against a sanction that they believe has been applied unreasonably. The Governors expect the Headteacher to inform the police if there is any evidence of a criminal act associated with an incident involving unacceptable behaviour. The Headteacher will monitor the reward and sanction system regularly for consistency, fairness and effectiveness and report back to the Governors.

Home/School Agreement: To encourage Parents/Carers to support their children's education, the Governors expect the Headteacher to ensure that the Home/School Agreement is consistent with the Behaviour Policy.

The Use of Positive Handling: The Governors expect the Behaviour Policy to clearly set out the circumstances where staff and others with authority may use reasonable force or other physical contact to control inappropriate behaviour, remove disruptive pupils from learning environments or prevent pupils from leaving learning environments or school premises. The Behaviour Policy must include a definition of 'reasonable force' and must explain how and under what circumstances pupils may be restrained. The Governors expect that all staff will be given advice on de-escalation and behaviour management techniques and that only appropriately trained staff will restrain pupils. In those cases where particular physical intervention techniques are identified as being necessary for particular pupils, the Governors expect individual pupil behaviour management plans to be drawn up.

The Power to Discipline Beyond the School Gate: The Governors expect the Behaviour Policy to set out the school's response to any non-criminal bad behaviour or bullying that occurs away from the school premises and which is witnessed by a member of staff or is reported to the school when the child is:

- Taking part on any school-organised or school-related activity; or
- Travelling to and from school; or
- Wearing school uniform; or
- In some other way, identifiable as a pupil at the school.

Even if these conditions do not apply, the Behaviour Policy must consider misbehaviour at any time that:

- Could have repercussions for the orderly running of the school; or
- Poses a threat to another pupil or member of the public; or
- Could adversely affect the reputation of the school.

Pastoral Care for School Staff Accused of Misconduct: The Governors expect the Behaviour Policy to set out the disciplinary action that will be taken against pupils who are found to have made malicious accusations against school staff. Governors expect the Headteacher to draw on the advice in 'Dealing with Allegations of Abuse against Teachers' and other staff guidance documents when setting out the pastoral support that school staff should expect to receive if they are accused of misusing their powers.
